Turquoise Way Path Stage 2:

Opportunity

The Opportunity:

To link Jurien Bay to Cervantes by cycle path to:

1. Open up active sports tourism opportunities.
2. Better link and allow cycle-based recreation opportunities for tourists to access currently inaccessible coastal assets.
3. Open up new accommodation opportunities of camping, and 'glamping'.

The Benefit:

Activation economic development of the Turquoise Coast and new jobs by completing a substantial new tourism facility that facilitates land and water based activities.

Proposal

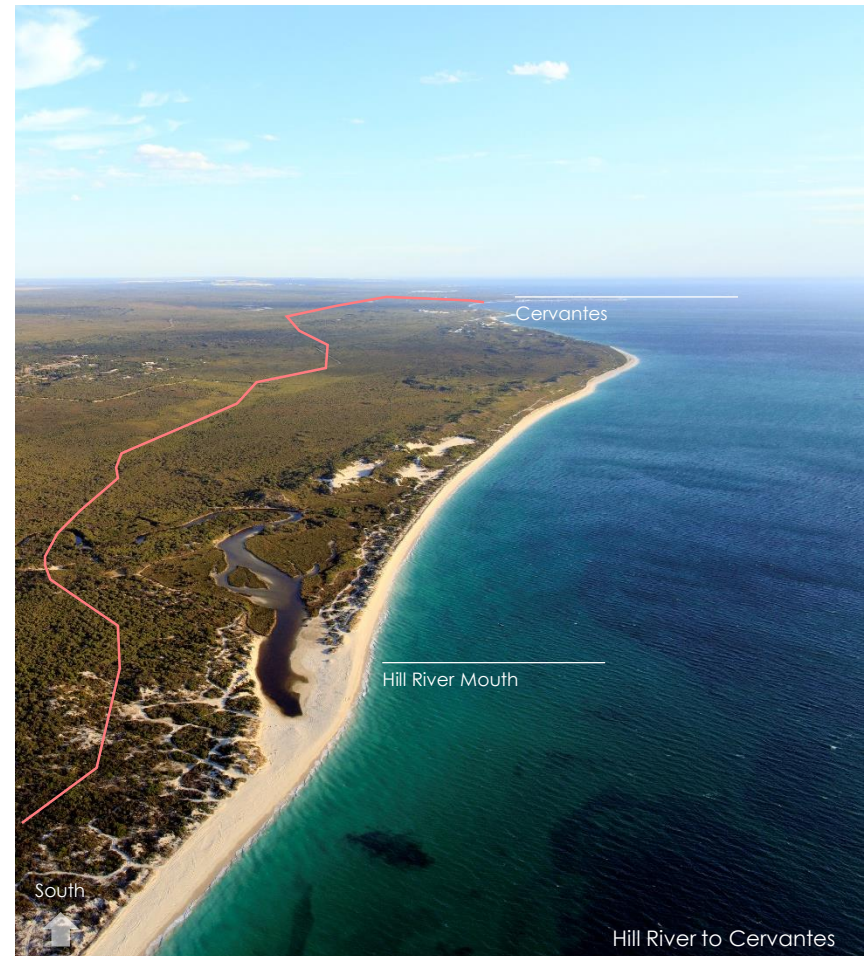

Jurien Bay  Cervantes

Stage 2 is a proposed 14.5 kilometre path to link the Hill River Mouth to Cervantes. This will provide a path length suitable for marathons as well as longer triathlons.

The estimated cost is $2.5m (inc GST).

Proposal

- The path is proposed to continue eastwards on Ardross land.
- The crossing point looks practical from an engineering perspective and for the inland route.
- It crosses the Hill River through a Council reserve. Discussions with the Yued people indicates that there are no aboriginal heritage matters at the crossing point.
- The Department of Water will require a permit for constructing a structure across the watercourse.
- The route then progresses along a firebreak on Ardross land.
